BREWRAFT USA CUSTOMER,

Brewcraft USA is a leading supplier to the homebrewing industry, serving retailers with quality service and products for nearly 25 years. The Brewcraft USA name was born when Steinbart Wholesale (a former segment of the F.H. Steinbart Company) was acquired into the GrainCorp Malt family of businesses. Today, Brewcraft USA is pleased to announce a brand and operational merger with our sister company, Country Malt Group. Country Malt Group is the industry leader in brewing and distilling ingredients across North America, specializing in quality products and excellent service.

Merging Brewcraft USA and Country Malt Group is part of our commitment to continuous improvement and a seamless experience for our customers. Our customers will have access to the full catalog of homebrew, winemaking, distilling, and cider making products from Brewcraft USA and now also the distribution network and sales team of Country Malt Group.

You can expect to see the following as we move forward:

- Country Malt Group Homebrew will replace the Brewcraft USA branding across our communication channels, digital presence, and written materials.
- Wineries, cideries, meaderies, breweries, and distilleries will still be able to order from Country Malt Group Homebrew as they remain an important segment of our business.
- The relationships you have established with your Inside Sales Specialist and Customer Service Representative will remain intact, including phone numbers and email addresses.
- You will start to receive invoices and communications under the Country Malt Group brand—there is no change in the legal structure of the business. If you need any information to prepare your Accounting process, please let us know.

As a valued customer, we will keep you informed of the changes as they are rolled out, which will position us to serve you better.

SINCERELY,

BRIAN MORTON
